Library System Launches New Website

The Santa Rosa County Library System has launched a completely revamped website with improved functionality, design and navigation. Found at the same address of www.santarosa.fl.gov/libraries, users will still find the popular features of the previous site like the searchable catalog, an events calendar and kid's pages but with fresh content and a new site just for teens.

The website is mobile responsive and offers three levels of age appropriate book and movie information available through the Santa Rosa County Library System. Features include:

- Main library site at www.santarosa.fl.gov/libraries – Book news, “How do I” questions and answers, links to county information and research assistance information
- Teen Scene at www.santarosa.fl.gov/teenscene –Internet safety information, homework, career, college prep assistance, surveys and links to popular games, movies, music, sport and trivia sites
- Kid's Zone at www.santarosa.fl.gov/kidszone – Storytime information, homework help, games and other cool stuff

The template designs were contracted out at $5,320 with the content developed and built by county staff, saving an estimated $5,000. The library site has the highest number of page views of the entire county website with approximately 14,000 page views per month.
